

Instructions for Parking at INGATHER's Reality House®

To give clients and study participants a more natural environment in which to conduct research, INGATHER Research & Sensory has its Reality House® research facility located in a residential home, within a residential neighborhood. This said...

- Please park only in front of the house or in the driveway.
- Please do not park at the church or in front of any other homes.

Illustrated below is the order in which participants should park as arriving. If you are the first participant, please pull into Spot #1; if you are second, please pull into Spot #2, and so on.

We are also happy to park your car for you in order to maximize the space so you are not blocked in and we are not blocking any of our neighbors.

As mentioned, we are in a residential neighborhood so please be respectful of our neighbors as you arrive and leave in regards to noise, driving, trash, etc.

Thank you so much for your help and support and for your participation at our Reality House location.

We look forward to seeing you and feel that you will enjoy your marketing research experience.
